PASTOR'S CORNERREFLECTIONS FOR OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, KING OF THE UNIVERSE

"Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom." The two thieves that were crucified next to Jesus show two very different ways of understanding who Jesus was. The first thief insulted Jesus, prodded him, mocked him. He didn't believe that Jesus had any power whatsoever. Like the sneering crowds, he thought that it was a joke to label Jesus as the "King of the Jews."

But the second thief, known in tradition as "the good thief," had a different perception. He understood that Jesus did in fact have power because, as Jesus had told Pilate only hours earlier, his kingdom "is not of this world." The good thief understood that the kingdom of God awaits those who believe in the Lord. And when this man made that final act of faith on his own cross, Jesus promised him, "Amen, I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise."

Today as we celebrate the solemnity of Christ the King, we are challenged to have as much faith as the good thief. We are challenged to believe that Jesus is in fact the "King of the Universe," even when it may not appear that way to those who stand by sneering. Jesus did not choose to hop down off the cross and make everything cheery. Instead he fulfilled his mission for an end result that was infinitely better than simply saving himself and those two thieves; by dying on the cross, he saved us all!

So we too need to trust that just because Jesus doesn't always answer our prayers exactly how we want or expect, and just because we find ourselves carrying a cross from time to time, it does not mean he isn't in charge! On the contrary, we need to trust, as the good thief did, that Jesus' mission is to bring all of us to join him in his heavenly kingdom.

WHAT IS FAITH?WHERE DOES IT COME FROM? HOW DOES IT GROW WITHIN US?

Faith is first and foremost a gift of God. We cannot acquire it on our own, through our own efforts or through any human power. "Faith is a gift of God, a supernatural virtue infused by him" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, no. 153). Faith is also a human act, in that it requires a response on our part. "In faith, the human intellect and will cooperate with divine grace" (CCC, no. 155). The apostles, who had already been given the gift of faith, recognized its limit within themselves and asked the Lord for the grace to respond more generously to His invitation to believe.

We must take care to distinguish faith as a supernatural virtue from religious feelings or sentiment arising from devotion. Faith is not the equivalent of religious ardor, although it may contribute to it. Faith is a virtue, a habit of the soul, which disposes the person to surrender their mind and heart to God. St. Paul calls this free submission of intellect and will "the obedience of faith" (Romans 1:5; see CCC, no. 143). Although self-surrender may go against our instincts, it is the path to true freedom and the source of liberation for our mind and will. God is the source of all truth, goodness and beauty. To be rooted in him through the obedience of faith opens the mind to what is true, the will to what is good, and the whole person to what is delightful.

There will be times when our faith seems weak. We may experience a loss in confidence in God due to suffering or difficult circumstances. The moral and social decline that surrounds us can cause dismay and incomprehension. We may sometimes ask, "Where is God?" when confronted with tragedy, injustice or interior aridity. To experience these things does not mean that we lack faith. It may mean, however, that we have come up to the limits of our faith, to its frontier in our hearts.

We can't see beyond the present horizon because our faith doesn't extend too far beyond the present moment. On those occasions, we ought to imitate the apostles, saying to the Lord, "increase our faith," and have confidence that he will, even if we don't perceive that intensification right away. We cannot help but to recall the faith of the Mother of God. "Blessed is she who believed that there would be a fulfillment of what was spoken to her from the Lord" (Luke 1:45). We also believe, and beg the Lord to expand the boundaries of our faith, after the pattern of His holy Mother.

ARCHDIOCESE OF WASHINGTON

JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY

It is not easy to entrust oneself to God's mercy, because it is an abyss beyond our comprehension. But we must! ... "Oh, I am a great sinner!" "All the better! Go to Jesus: He likes you to tell him these things!" He forgets, He has a very special capacity for forgetting. He forgets, He kisses you, He embraces you and He simply says to you: "Neither do I condemn you; go, and sin no more" (Jn 8:11).
— Homily on March 17, 2013

He said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom." He replied to him, "Amen, I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise." — Lk 23:42-43
