Welcome

ST. Luke is a warm and embracing parish family. We gladly extend our love and warmth to all those who desire to worship and follow our Lord, Jesus Christ. Come join us to celebrate the Holy Eucharist which is the source and summit of our Christian life. Our theme for 2019 is “Teach us to number our days, that we may gain a heart of wisdom.” [Psalm 90:12] Together we will praise God, love one another and serve each other.

PASTOR'S CORNER

THE PEACE OF CHRIST

Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts.

—Colossians 3:15

What does it mean to trust God? To have a trusting heart means allowing our confidence in God's character to govern our inward emotions and our outward behavior. Think about the life of Jesus Christ. Jesus obeyed God completely because He trusted God completely. His life was absent of any inward turmoil, regardless of what was happening on the outside, because He trusted in the wisdom and the goodness of God's plan for Him. And Jesus wants us to experience that same peace in our life as well. That's why, in Colossians 3:15, Paul says, "Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts."

Now, there are two significant phrases in that verse. First, the phrase the peace of Christ not only means the peace that comes from Christ, but it also means the same peace that characterized the life of Jesus Christ. Did Jesus go around with inner turmoil? Was He threatened whenever people were against Him? Did He allow outward circumstances to destroy His confidence in God? Not at all. He had complete trust in God's power, God's love, and God's wisdom. Therefore, He obeyed God completely. Paul is saying, "I want the same peace that was in Christ's life to be in your life."

The second important phrase in Colossians 3:15 is rule in your hearts. This is key. The Greek word translated rule in this verse is an athletic term. It could be translated "to umpire, to officiate at a game." So Paul is saying, "Let the peace of Christ have the final say, make the final call, in your life." I remember reading long ago about an umpires' convention. Umpires were there to learn how to be better athletic officials. And one night some of the umpires got together in a hotel room and had a late-night bull session. They were talking about how they made their calls in a difficult game. One umpire said, "I call them the way I see them." The second umpire said, "I call them the way they are." The third umpire said, "They're not anything until I call them."

You know what? Life's circumstances are just like that. We can't control the circumstances that get thrown at us. Likewise, we cannot control the temptations inwardly that entice us. But the fact is, both of these—turmoil from the outside and temptation from the inside—are nothing until we call them. So what Paul is saying is this: Let the peace of Christ—the confidence that Christ had in God's character—have the final say when these difficult things come into your life. Don't allow your inner turmoil to have the final say in your life. We can trust God completely when we let the peace of Christ rule in our hearts.

REFLECTION FOR SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Jesus tells his disciples, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. Not as the world gives do I give it to you." The peace that Jesus gives is far different than the kind that comes from the absence of war, conflict, or affliction. The peace that God offers is found alongside suffering and hardship, not necessarily in their absence. St. Teresa of Avila offers us a bit of wisdom regarding peace: "May today there be peace within. May you trust God that you are exactly where you are meant to be. May you not forget the infinite possibilities that are born of faith. May you use those gifts that you have received and pass on the love that has been given to you. May you be content knowing you are a child of God. Let this presence settle into your bones and allow your soul the freedom to sing, dance, praise, and love. It is there for each and every one of us."

In order for us to experience the divine peace that Jesus offers, we have to allow God's presence to settle into our bones! It is only when this happens that we can be truly taught by the Holy Spirit to discern the true path to peace and find ourselves with untroubled hearts. The world and our lives are so unpredictable and changeable. If we look for a source of lasting and real peace only there, our search will never be satisfied. Something will always unsettle and disturb us. The Jewish disciples could really relate to what Jesus was saying about peace (shalom). They already knew that it was more a matter of achieving wholeness and wellbeing than anything else.

Wholeness and wellbeing are precisely what is uncovered when we begin to really see and know the height, depth, and breadth of God's presence and promise. The elegance of God's Divine life flows through our blood and the marrow in our bones. It is that close and deep. As we breathe in and exhale God's life, peace becomes what we know within and what is exhaled out. This remains in the midst of intense conflict, persecution, suffering, rejection, and even death.
